2) A group of researchers (archaeologists and social anthropologists) have visited the L'anse Aux Meadows site in Newfoundland, which is a site with confirmed evidence of Viking exploration and inhabitation (they lived in the area for a time). What types of artifacts might you find? What would they tell you about the Viking explorers that lived there? Answer in full sentences. (3 marks)

3) Use the following diagram to explain how humans migrated to North and South America. Wherever possible, give approximate dates, directions, cultural groups, and beginning and end points of travel. Point form answers are acceptable. (4 marks)

4) Answer the following questions and provide specific and detailed information in your answer - include dates, groups involved, terminology/vocabulary from class, concepts, and examples. (6 marks)

- A. What is 'identity'? How is it linked with geography? What is the significance of cultural or personal/last names?
- B. Why is the term 'exploration' by Western cultures (Europeans) misleading in the study of Canadian History? What does it tell us about perspective or differing viewpoints on history?
- C. What are some of the aspects of First Nations culture before the European explorers arrived? Focus on language, culture, warfare, territories, relations between First Nations groups, First Nations travel and exploration.

Bonus Questions:

Online Reading - Read the National Post article (November 6, 2019) – This New Brunswick Village Sold 16 Housing Lots for a Dollar Each, and Its Population is Soaring

<https://nationalpost.com/news/canada/real-estate-sale-of-16-housing-new-brunswick-village-real-estate-listings-housing>

1) After reading the article by the National Post, why would a New Brunswick village sell plots of land for “less than a cup of coffee?” Has it helped the community of McAdam, explain how? Be specific.
